To the student

Who is this book for?

Learners of English at intermediate or upper-intermediate level who want to write better emails.
Learners studying on their own, or with a teacher.

Why was this book written?

In many English courses writing gets a low priority. Sometimes you do have a chance to practise some writing, but without a focus on emails. That is surprising, because emails are probably the most common type of written communication. Email English will give you the help you need to write effective emails.

Perhaps you think that it is not worth spending time on emails. They are informal, written quickly, and no-one minds if you make mistakes. Well, that is true for some emails, for example emails between close friends. But what about an email to someone where you want to make a good impression? Or what about an email where you want to be a bit more careful or more diplomatic than usual? Or what about an email in a professional context? It takes awareness and practice to write in a style that fits the context, and Email English has many exercises to help you do this.

How is the book organised?

Email English consists of thirty-two units of language practice and a phrase bank. The language practice covers a wide range of topics and includes a great variety of exercise types, such as practice of key phrases, awareness activities about different styles of writing and practice of general language structures. The phrase bank has useful expressions divided into sections. At the end of the book is an answer key.

How should I use this book?

Look at the contents page and you will see that there are various sections in the book. Start with the 'Introduction' units – you will get an idea of how email writing style is different from the style of a letter. Then complete the 'Basics' section. You will practice and learn common phrases for most typical short emails. After that you can work through the book in sequence, or you might prefer to do the units in another order, for example according to what type of emails you most frequently write.

Use the phrase bank as a reference when you write your own emails. The phrases in each section are presented in the most likely order that you will need them, so you get help with the structure of the email as well as the language.

By the time you finish Email English you will be much more confident at writing emails. Your emails will be right for the context: friendly and informal, or simple and direct, or polite and indirect, depending on what is best for the situation. And in general you will be able to express yourself more clearly, you will create a good image, and your writing will be easier to understand. Other people will want to know you better, as a friend or colleague or business partner.

What else can I do to practise writing emails?

Get feedback on the emails that you write in real life: if you know a friend whose English is better than yours, or a native speaker, then ask them to make comments on your writing. Also, study the English in the emails you receive. If you receive a well-written email, remember to look carefully at the language. Build your own phrase book: start your own bank of phrases from ones you have received in an email or ones you have written yourself.

If you want more help with grammar, we recommend Business Grammar Builder (Macmillan) by Paul Emmerson, the same author as this book.

General tips

Here are some general tips as a reminder for writing good emails:

- Use a 'subject line' that summarises briefly and clearly the content of the message. Your email may be one of hundreds on the recipient's computer, and you want them to read it when it arrives and then find it again easily in their files.
- Use short, simple sentences. Long sentences are often difficult to read and understand. The most common mistake for learners of English is to translate directly from their own language. Usually the result is a complicated, confusing sentence.
- One subject per email is best. The other person can reply to an email about one thing, delete it, and leave another email in their 'Inbox' that needs more time.
- Be very careful with jokes, irony, personal comments etc. Humour rarely translates well from one culture to another. And if you are angry, wait for 24 hours before you write. Once you press 'Send' you cannot get your email back. It can be seen by anyone and copied and sent round the world. The intimate, informal nature of email makes people write things that they shouldn't. Only write what you would be comfortable saying to the person's face.
- Take a moment to review and edit what you have written. Is the main point clear? Would some pieces of continuous text be better as bullet points or numbered points? Is it clear what action you want the recipient to take? Would you be happy to receive this email? If in doubt, ask a colleague to quickly look through and make comments.
- Don't ignore capital letters, punctuation, spelling, paragraphs, and basic grammar. It might be okay when you are writing to a very close friend, but to everyone else it's an important part of the image that you create. A careless, disorganised email shows the outside world a careless, disorganised mind.
- Use the replies you receive to modify your writing to the same person. If the recipient writes back in a more informal or more formal style, then match that in your future emails to them. If they use particular words or phrases that seem to come from their company culture, or professional area, then consider using those words yourself where they are appropriate.
- Be positive! Look at these words: activity, agreed, evolving, fast, good question, helpful, join us, mutual, productive, solve, team, together, tools, useful. Now look at these: busy, crisis, failure, forget it, hard, I can't, I won't, impossible, never, stupid, unavailable, waste. The words you use show your attitude to life.

To the teacher

What is Email English?

Email English is a book to help your students write better emails. It is aimed at intermediate or upper-intermediate level, and consists of 32 two-page units of language practice covering a very wide range of topics, a phrase bank of useful expressions divided into sections, and an answer key.

Email English includes exercises on email style, but also practises more conventional language areas such as fixed expressions, sentence structure, linking words, prepositions and verb tenses. Email English assumes that students already have approximately 'intermediate' level, and exercises are designed to review language at this level rather than present it for the first time. If your students want more help with grammar, we recommend Business Grammar Builder (Macmillan) by Paul Emmerson.

Why Email English?

Writing gets a low priority in many coursebooks, and very few give a systematic and comprehensive treatment of emails. This is surprising, because emails are by far the most common method of written communication, and writing emails is included in many examinations. Working through Email English will make your students much more confident in this area. They will be able to express themselves more clearly, their writing will be easier to understand, and they will be able to pass examination questions based on writing emails with much higher marks.

How can you use Email English in class?

Work through units 1–3 of Email English in sequence. After that, you can do the units in any order. Encourage your students to use the phrase bank as a reference for when they write their own emails. The phrases in each section are presented in the most likely order that a writer will need them, so the student gets help with the structure of the email as well as the language.

Free writing practice and the Email English website

Email English is designed for self-study as well as classroom use, so there is no 'free' writing practice in the book. This is convenient for teachers if you don't have time for a follow-up writing task. But if you do want to set a freer writing activity at the end of a unit, then we have included some suggested tasks on this website: www.businessenglishonline.net. There are tasks for both working professionals, and for students in Higher Education who have little experience of the professional world. Encourage your students to write emails using a word processor, then they can go back and change it after they get your comments. Soon they will build up a bank of emails they have written. Also encourage them to bring in any well-written emails they receive, so you can study them in class together. From time to time also remind your students to look again at the 'General tips' on page 5.

Organising a writing task

The first choice that you have is students writing their emails in class or for homework. If students write in class you will be able to go round monitoring and helping. A word limit or time limit will help to focus the activity. As you circulate, note down any points that you think would be of interest to other students as well, and cover them in a short feedback slot with the whole class at the end.

When students finish writing they can hand in their work to you for marking, or work in pairs to improve each other's work, or use their ideas to build up a 'collective best version' on the board. Let's look at each option in more detail:

- 1 Teacher marks the students' work. You can give explicit correction by underlining and writing in the correct form. Alternatively, you can give guided correction by underlining only, perhaps with a hint in the margin, and asking students to try to correct their work themselves. The most challenging form of correction is to not underline any words, but to write a comment in the margin next to the appropriate line (e.g. 'verb tense', 'preposition', 'word order' or 'formality'). Students then work in pairs in the next class to help each other to respond to your comments. Don't forget to acknowledge good use of language in your feedback – a specific comment in the margin (Good use of this phrase), or a more general word of encouragement at the end (Very well written; A big improvement).
- 2 Students work in pairs to correct and improve each other's work. Students learn a lot by correcting errors in other students' work, and it helps them to get into the habit of reviewing and editing. They can also learn positive things from another student's text: fixed expressions, grammar, topic vocabulary, style, other ways to organise ideas etc. Peer correction also helps change the classroom atmosphere from the quiet, heads-down writing task to something more lively and communicative. After students have worked together to check and correct each other's comments, leave time for them to rewrite their emails individually before they finally hand them in to you. A similar idea is when students finish their first individual writing, ask them to leave their emails on the desk in front of them, or stick them up on the board/walls. Then ask them to go round and read all the other emails, looking at the structure, organisation of ideas, and noting down any good phrases that other students used. Then they return to their seats and make any changes that they want to.
- 3 Collective best version on the board. This method is good in small classes where all the students have been doing the same task and the content of their emails is similar. Go through the email sentence by sentence. Each time begin by asking one or two students to suggest an idea, then the whole class (including you) can comment on, reformulate and improve these ideas. Build up an agreed version bit by bit on the board. Of course, the final words will be different to what any one student originally wrote.

Always consider the idea of repeating a task in a later lesson. The students will use the same instructions and can look briefly at their previous, corrected version before they begin. Then they write the same email again. The importance of repeated practice of this kind is often underestimated by teachers who think it might be boring for students. Students tend to recognise that it helps build fluency in writing. Repeating an email from a previous lesson is also a good 'filler' activity for the end of a lesson.

Finally, an email is something that someone sends to someone else. So look for opportunities in class for students to 'send' emails to each other, and for the recipient to write a reply.

1 Formal or informal?

- A First, read the information about writing emails then match the informal phrases (1–15) with the neutral/formal phrases (a–o).

Three different writing styles are often identified, although in real life the differences are not so clear:

- Formal This is the style of an old-fashioned letter. Ideas are presented politely and carefully, and there is much use of fixed expressions and long words. The language is impersonal. Grammar and punctuation are important. This style is not common in emails, but you can find it if the subject matter is serious (for example a complaint).
- Neutral/Standard This is the most common style in professional/work emails. The writer and reader are both busy, so the language is simple, clear and direct. Sentences are short and there is use of contractions (I've for I have etc.). The language is more personal. However, the style is not similar to speech – it is too direct.
- Informal This is the most common style for emails between friends. Sometimes the email can be very short or it could include personal news, funny comments etc. This is the style that is closest to speech, so there are everyday words and conversational expressions. The reader will also be more tolerant of bad grammar etc.

- | Informal | Neutral/Formal |
| 1 What do you need? d | a) With regard to ... (or With reference to) |
| 2 Thanks for the email of 12 Feb. | b) I can assure you that ... |
| 3 Sorry, I can't make it. | c) We note from our records that you have not ... |
| 4 I'm sorry to tell you that | d) Please let us know your requirements. |
| 5 I promise | e) I was wondering if you could ... |
| 6 Could you ...? | f) We would like to remind you that ... |
| 7 You haven't | g) I look forward to meeting you next week. |
| 8 Don't forget | h) Thank you for your email received 12 February. |
| 9 I need to | i) I am afraid I will not be able to attend. |

| 14 Re | n) We regret to advise you that ... |
| 15 See you next week. | o) However ... / In addition ... / Therefore ... |

Note: with business emails you can mix styles to some extent, but don't mix styles at the two extremes. If in doubt, follow the style of the other person.

- B Rewrite the emails below by substituting the phrases in italics with more informal phrases. Section A will help you. Use contractions (e.g. I'll) where appropriate.

Email 1

I am afraid I will not be able to attend the meeting on Friday. As I will miss the meeting, I was wondering if you could send me a copy of the minutes? I will write to Anita as well, to inform her that I will not be there. Once again, please accept my apologies for this, and I can assure you that I will be at the next meeting.

Sorry, I can't make it on Friday.

Email 2

Thank you for your email of 25 January where you requested assistance on how to order on-line. It is necessary for me to know your a/c number before I can deal with this. I would be grateful if you could also provide details of which version of Windows you are using.

Email 3

With reference to your order number J891 – we received it this morning, but you have not filled in the sections on size and colour. Please let us know your exact requirements. These products are selling very well at the moment, and we regret to advise you that the medium size is temporarily out of stock. However, we are expecting more supplies in the near future. Would you like me to email you when they arrive?

- C Match the words of Latin origin in box A with the shorter words in box B.

Box A

1 assistance	6 information	11 repair
2 due to	7 obtain/receive	12 request
3 enquire	8 occupation	13 requirements
4 further	9 possess	14 reserve
5 inform	10 provide	15 verify

Box B

a) ask	f) facts	k) help (n)
b) ask for	g) fix (v)	l) job
c) because of	h) get	m) more
d) book (v)	i) give	n) needs (n)
e) check/prove	j) have	o) tell

1 k 2 _____ 3 _____ 4 _____ 5 _____ 6 _____ 7 _____ 8 _____ 9 _____ 10 _____ 11 _____ 12 _____ 13 _____ 14 _____ 15 _____

Note: longer words of Latin origin sound more formal, and shorter words sound more informal.

2 Missing words and abbreviations

A Read the information below. Then match the sentences (a–l) to their descriptions.

Missing out words is common in emails and informal speech. It happens where the people know each other very well and the situation is relaxed and friendly. The meaning is clear from the context so the full grammatical form is not necessary.

- | | |
|--|--|
| a) (That's a) good idea! | g) Just read (the) email about relocation. |
| b) (Did you) get my last email? | h) Your suggestion (is) good, but needs clarification. |
| c) (I) think your idea is great. | i) (Are you) coming with us on Friday? |
| d) (It) sounds like fun! | j) (I) hope you're well. |
| e) (I am) looking forward to seeing you. | k) (It's a) pity we missed you yesterday. |
| f) (I'll) speak to you later. | l) Next week (would be) better than this week. |

- The subject 'I' can be left out, especially with mental verbs like hope, think etc. /
- In a question, the subject 'you' and the auxiliary can be left out. /
- The subject 'I' and the auxiliary (be, have, will) can be left out. /
- The words 'That' or 'It' can be left out, often with a form of 'be' as well. /
- A form of 'be' can be left out on its own. /
- The word 'the' can occasionally be left out.

B Put the missing words back into the email below.

It was a

Great evening, wasn't it! Really enjoyed the meal, and nice to see Mary and Roger again. Had a chance to speak to Lucy yet? Don't worry if you haven't, will be seeing her tomorrow.

About next week – film you suggested sounds great. Been talking to some colleagues at work about it. Not sure about the day, though. Tuesday might be difficult. Perhaps Wednesday better? Let me know.

Going to my parents at weekend – looking forward to it. They live in Chichester. Ever been there?

Sometime soon we need to talk about holiday plans for next summer. Things still a bit uncertain at work.

Might be possible to take two weeks off in July, but can't be sure. Three weeks impossible. A pity.

Anyway, got to go now. Hope you're well. See you next week.

C Match the abbreviations (1–4) with the meanings (a–d).

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 i.e. (id est) | a) I am going to give an example. |
| 2 e.g. (exempli gratia) | b) I am going to explain what I mean using different words. |
| 3 NB (nota bene) | c) I am adding some information at the end that I forgot. |
| 4 PS (postscript) | d) I want you to give special attention to this next point. |

D First, read the information about abbreviated forms. Then write out the emails in full.

In some emails you can find very abbreviated forms. The writer wants to write very quickly and the meaning is clear from the context. There are three techniques:

- 1 using a letter to stand for a sound ('c' = see)
- 2 making a short form of a common word ('yr' = your)
- 3 writing the first letters of a well-known phrase ('asap' = as soon as possible).

4 Opening and closing

A Match the email beginnings (1–8) with the endings (a–h).

Beginnings ...	... Endings
1 I am writing with regard to your recent email. We regret to inform you that there are no double rooms available for the nights you require. ...C...	a) Anyway, thanks again for inviting me, and I'm really looking forward to it. Do you want me to bring anything?
2 Thanks so much for the wonderful present. It's exactly the book that I wanted – how did you know? I'm really looking forward to reading it.	b) You know you can count on me if you need any support. I'll call you at the weekend to see how things are.
3 Patricia, I've just read your email. I'm so sorry to hear about what happened.	c) Should you need any further information about room availability, we will be happy to assist you.
4 Sorry, I can't make it to your birthday party at Fishers restaurant, as I'm away on that day.	d) I look forward to receiving this information as soon as possible.
5 I am mailing this via the 'Contact Us' link on your website. I'd like to know a few more details about the anti-virus software that's listed on the site.	e) It really is great news, and I'm sure that it's only the beginning of our work in the French market.
6 I am writing with reference to our order number GH67. The goods arrived this morning, but you only sent 200 pieces instead of the 300 that we ordered.	f) Please deal with this matter urgently. I expect a reply from you by tomorrow morning at the latest.
7 Yes! Great! I'd love to come to the party.	g) Thanks again for the gift, and give my regards to your family.
8 I've just heard from Antonio about the Paris contract. It's fantastic news – you worked really hard on this and you deserve the success.	h) Anyway, sorry again that I can't come, but have a great time. I hope we can meet up soon. What about going to see that new Spielberg film?

B Match the beginning and ending pairs in section A with the descriptions (1–8) below.

- 1 An email asking for information. Neutral style. 5d
- 2 An email giving information. Formal style.
- 3 An email accepting an invitation. Informal style.
- 4 An email refusing an invitation. Informal style.
- 5 An email of congratulations. Neutral style.
- 6 An email of complaint. Formal style.
- 7 An email of thanks. Neutral style.
- 8 An email of sympathy. Informal style.

C Read the following sentences. Decide whether they are beginnings or endings. Then decide whether they are neutral or informal.

- | | | |
|--|---------|----------|
| 1 The computer network will be shut down for maintenance at 5pm on Thursday. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 2 Oh, yes – I'll be back late tonight. Can you do the shopping and buy something nice for dinner? Thx. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 3 I look forward to receiving your advice on this matter. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 4 What a surprise – how nice to hear from you! | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 5 Bye for now. See you soon. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |

| 7 Please find attached my report, as promised in Friday's meeting. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 8 I'm so happy for you! Write again soon and tell me how it's going. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 9 We are writing to advise you about some changes in our price list. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 10 If you'd like any more details, just let me know. I'm away all next week but Andrea is dealing with this in my absence. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 11 Just a quick note to say I really enjoyed last night. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |
| 12 Simon and I have been talking about your holiday plans for next August. It looks like we won't be able to join you. I'm really sorry. | Beg/End | Neut/Inf |

D Look back at the examples in section C. Find:

- a) two written to someone unknown or little known. 3 /
- b) four written to colleagues, perhaps sent to several people. / / /
- c) five written to a friend. / / / /
- d) one written to a very close family member.

5 Giving news

A Decide whether the following would be used in a formal or informal email.

- | | |
|--|-------------------|
| 1 Further to our phone call, I now have the information you requested. | formal / informal |
| 2 Thanks for your email – it was great to hear from you again. | formal / informal |

7 Internal messages

A Read these two emails. Which one is better? Why?

Version 1

Subject: Visit of Mr Bianchi from Ferrara Textiles to our company tomorrow

Tomorrow we will have the pleasure to welcome Mr Bianchi from Ferrara Textiles as a visitor to our company. His company intends to place a large order with us, and we hope that this will become a long-term business relationship. It is therefore very important to make a good impression, and all the staff in your department should know about his visit and be as helpful as possible. They should greet him by name, answer any questions he asks, explain procedures etc. He will be looking around the company from about 12.00, after his meeting with me. I would like to make sure that there is someone present in every section over the lunch period, in case he has any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Version 2

Subject: Visit tomorrow

Mr Bianchi of Ferrara Textiles will be looking around the company tomorrow, from about 12.00. It is important to make a good impression. Please:

- 1 Inform all staff in your department.
- 2 Remind them to greet Mr Bianchi by name and take time to answer his questions.
- 3 Arrange lunch breaks so that there is always someone available in your section.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Compare your answer with the answer at the back of the book.

Note the following points about internal notes and messages:

- Separate points are used to refer to information or action.
- The points can be organised by numbers, or headings, or bullet points (like this).
- The style is clear and direct; sentences are short and have a simple structure.
- The language is neutral, not informal.
- If the memo refers to action, imperative verb forms are common (Inform ..., Prepare ...).
- Useful endings: Thank you for your cooperation. / Please contact me if there are any problems.

B First read the information below. Then identify the four stages in email version 2, section A.

A typical structure for any piece of written communication, short message or longer report, is:

- C Rewrite the email. The maximum length is 80 words, including the subject line. Think carefully about what information you need to include. Underline the key words to help you.

Subject: Training course in how to use spreadsheets

I have found some interesting information about a computer training course taking place in the city centre. I think it would be useful for someone from our department to attend as we are all a bit uncertain about how to use Excel, although we know the basics of course. I have a copy of their leaflet, and the details are as follows. The name of the course is 'Spreadsheets for Financial Planning', and the course dates are from 4 June to 8 June. The course runs every evening during that week, from 18.00 to 19.30. The cost is €750. I am free at that time and I would really like to go – I can help other people in the future. I know it's a bit expensive, but do you think the company can pay for me? I can't afford to pay for it out of my own money. Thank you very much.

Subject: Mrs Rothe's retirement at the end of the year

As you may know, Mrs Rothe will be retiring at the end of the year. She has made a great contribution to our company, and will be missed by all her colleagues. She has been with the company for fifteen years, moving up from Sales Assistant to Sales Manager during that time. To show our appreciation, we would like to organise a small leaving party for Mrs Rothe, after work on her final day. We will also present her with a small gift. I have asked Claudia to organise the collection for the gift, and she will be coming round with a large brown envelope if you want to make a contribution – the amount you give is entirely your choice. The leaving party will be after work on 20 December, in the main conference room. Everyone is welcome, and we hope that as many people as possible will come to say goodbye to Mrs Rothe. I look forward to seeing you there.

Günter – we need to meet to discuss the budget for next year. Could we meet ⁽¹⁾ Friday ⁽²⁾ the morning? Let me know if that would be ⁽³⁾ for you. I hope everyone in the Berlin office is well. Give my ⁽⁴⁾ to Kristina and Alex.
Bw, Susanna.

Susanna, I'm ⁽⁵⁾ I can't ⁽⁶⁾ it next Friday – I'm ⁽⁷⁾ all day. ⁽⁸⁾ about Monday 12th ⁽⁹⁾ ? I should be ⁽¹⁰⁾ to make a morning meeting, otherwise anytime after 4pm ⁽¹¹⁾ be fine.
Hope that's okay, Günter.

Günter, yes – Monday morning is good for me too. Shall we say 9.30? I look forward to ⁽¹²⁾ you then. Give me a ⁽¹³⁾ if you have ⁽¹⁴⁾ problems.
Susanna.

| 5 let me know if you | e) the following week? |
| 6 something urgent | f) want to make any changes. |

D Put the complete phrases from section C into the three emails below.

Charles-Henri, ⁽¹⁾..... ? Please get back to me this morning if possible as ⁽²⁾.....
Natalia.

Natalia, I'm sorry to ask this at such short notice, but ⁽³⁾.....
.....? Perhaps Wednesday 24th? I do apologise, but ⁽⁴⁾.....
..... I hope it won't inconvenience you too much.
Charles-Henri.

Okay, let's make it Wednesday 24th. ⁽⁵⁾.....
Please ⁽⁶⁾.....
Natalia.

E First, review some grammar for planning a trip, then complete the email from a secretary by putting the verbs in brackets into a form of will or the present continuous.

The will form (I'll do ...) and the present continuous (I'm doing ...) can both be used for talking about the future, but there is a small difference:

- will is used for facts and general beliefs.
- present continuous is used for arrangements (with a time and a place).

As you know, you ⁽¹⁾.....'re going..... (go) to Brussels on Wednesday. I've spoken to Mr Cuvier's secretary and the details of the trip are now more or less planned. You ⁽²⁾..... (catch) the 8.00 flight from City Airport. Someone ⁽³⁾..... (be) at the airport to take you to the hotel – you ⁽⁴⁾..... (stay) at the Marriot for just one night. At 11.00 you ⁽⁵⁾..... (meet) Mr Cuvier at his office. I'm sure he ⁽⁶⁾..... (take) you out to lunch. After lunch you ⁽⁷⁾..... (not/do) anything until 4pm, so you ⁽⁸⁾..... (have) time to go back to the hotel if you want. The travel agency ⁽⁹⁾..... (send) the tickets here by courier this afternoon, so I ⁽¹⁰⁾..... (give) them to you as soon as they arrive.

Dear Ms Dupuis

Your name was given to me by Dominique Clement at Toulouse Business Services. I understand that you recently did some IT training for them on a freelance basis. We need some training along similar lines for our staff, and I am in the process of looking at different options. I would be grateful if you could give me the following information:

(1) this kind of work?

Are you available in early September?

Also, some of our older software needs upgrading or replacing before we have the training, and the original supplier has gone out of business. (2) ?

I would appreciate your advice.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Regards, Karl Finlay

Dear Karl, thank you for your email. I attach a pdf file with our current rates and a list of recent clients. Early September looks fine at the moment – can you let me know the dates, times, number of participants etc?

In relation to your final point, (3) send someone to the Software and Services Exhibition in Lyon next month? A lot of suppliers have stands there. Best wishes, Cristine Cristine, Thanks for the quick reply.

(4) the cost, and we need to discuss this before we go any further. I need to know that we will get good value for money.

(5) send me more details of your course programme and your training methods?

You wanted some more information from us. I'm afraid I don't have the exact dates etc. at the moment, but (6)

Karl, I attach a typical course programme for you to have a look at, although at this stage it's difficult to be too specific about your particular course.

(7) give you a discount of 10% on the prices I quoted earlier, if you paid half the total amount in advance.

(8) value for money, but our training programmes are competitively priced and I can assure you that we have always had very good feedback.

Cristine, (9) I think we need to have a meeting to discuss the training course in more detail. I'm free most mornings – let me know when would suit you best. In the meantime, I'm attaching a document that lists all the hardware we currently have in the office, and the new software we are going to install. Let me know if you need any more information before the meeting.

(10) Karl

12 Checking understanding

- A Read the email exchange between Peter and Kate. In each gap there are two missing words – try to guess what they are. In email 2 Kate has used the 'Reply' button, so she includes the text of the email she received.

Email 1 (from Peter to Kate)

Kate, I've attached the sales figures for Q3, as requested.
You'll see that we're up 6%! Things are really taking off in Central Europe.
By the way, are you going to the conference?

Email 2 (from Kate to Peter)

> Kate, I've attached the sales figures for Q3, as requested.
Sorry, Peter, you forgot to send ⁽¹⁾..... Can you send it again?
> You'll see that we're up 6%! Things are really taking off in Central Europe.
Great news. Do ⁽²⁾..... 6% increase for the quarter or for the whole year?
> By the way, are you going to the conference?
⁽³⁾..... ? The sales conference in Istanbul next month or the International Plastics Convention in Slough?

Email 3 (from Peter to Kate)

Sorry about that, Kate. Here it is again. Let ⁽⁴⁾..... if you get it.
I meant 6% for the quarter! Head Office are very pleased.
What do you mean 'Which conference?!' I was talking about the sales conference of course. But are ⁽⁵⁾..... it's in Istanbul?

D The email below shows some original text introduced with a '>' symbol, and some comments in italics. Complete the email by writing one word in each gap.

> I've written down some thoughts about the Beta project – it's ⁽¹⁾..... as a Word doc. I'm circulating it to all line managers. ⁽²⁾..... me know what you think.
I'm afraid you ⁽³⁾..... to send the attachment. Can you send it ⁽⁴⁾..... ?

> There's a couple of things I'd like you focus on. First is the timing.
I'm not sure what you mean ⁽⁵⁾..... 'timing'. The time before the project starts, or the time the project will actually take once it's started?

> Then there's the question of marketing costs.
I know Daniel produced some detailed figures on this some time ago. Have you ⁽⁶⁾..... with him?

> Finally, feasibility.
I don't understand this ⁽⁷⁾..... . Can you explain in a little more ⁽⁸⁾..... ?

> I'd like your comments by the end of next week at the ⁽⁹⁾..... .
Okay, I'll try to get them ⁽¹⁰⁾..... to you by then.

One last thing – I think you need to copy Lila ⁽¹¹⁾..... on your original email. I may be ⁽¹²⁾..... , but I think she's now involved from the Latin America end.

13 Verb forms

A Match a form in the left-hand column with a meaning in the middle column and a grammar word in the right-hand column.

1 Sales increase every year.	a) Completed actions in a completed period of time.	past simple
2 Sales are increasing at the moment.	b) Actions and situations repeated regularly over a long period of time.	past continuous
3 Sales have increased by 5% this year.	c) Actions or situations in progress from the past up to the present.	present simple
4 Sales have been increasing rapidly this year.	d) Temporary actions and situations in progress now.	present continuous
5 Sales increased significantly last year.	e) Actions or activities in progress in the past.	present perfect

B Underline the correct words or phrases in the email.

Hi Yuko! I'm writing from an Internet café in the village of Dingle on the west coast of Ireland. I got a week's holiday from work so I came over here for a short break. I'm having a great time. It's so different compared ⁽¹⁾for/to England – even ⁽²⁾rainier/rainyer if you can believe it!

I flew to Dublin first, and I spent a couple of days there – not as ⁽³⁾much/many time as you really need because there's so much to see. The people are some of the ⁽⁴⁾friendliest/friendlier I've ⁽⁵⁾never/ever met. I found the Irish accent quite difficult at first, but I'm getting ⁽⁶⁾more and more/always more used to it. It's not cheap here – prices in Dublin were about the same ⁽⁷⁾than/as London, but here on the coast they're ⁽⁸⁾more expensive/expensiver.

I arrived here yesterday, and I can promise you, the west coast of Ireland is just ⁽⁹⁾as/so beautiful as they say – it's so green. There's live music in the pubs at night, and the later it gets the ⁽¹⁰⁾more/most people come in. That's all for now – I'm off to hear some music! Write soon. Justine.

C Complete the email by writing one word in each gap.

Thank you for your email inquiring about our products.

We have three optical pen scanners in our range, the 400C, 600C and 800C. A pen scanner is ⁽¹⁾ like a hand-held scanner, you scan in text from a page and download it into your PC or PDA later. The 800C is our ⁽²⁾ selling model, and has ⁽³⁾ widest range of functions, including a translating dictionary. The 600C is similar ⁽⁴⁾ the 800C, but has ⁽⁵⁾ memory – it can only store 1,000 pages of text, ⁽⁶⁾ to 2,000 pages for the 800C. The 400C is cheaper ⁽⁷⁾ the other two models, and doesn't have as ⁽⁸⁾ memory or functionality. It's a more basic model, but its ability to scan text is just the ⁽⁹⁾ You will find full product and price details in the attached document.

In your email you ask about our terms of payment for large orders. Clearly, the bigger your order, the ⁽¹⁰⁾ discount we can give. Our normal minimum order is 500 units, but for a first-time customer we would accept an order ⁽¹¹⁾ small as 200 units. It would be better to discuss all this in more detail at a later date, but I'm sure you'll find our terms are very competitive in comparison ⁽¹²⁾ other suppliers. We're confident that these pens will sell very well in your market, and customer feedback on the 800C is amongst the best we have ⁽¹³⁾ had.

If you have any ⁽¹⁴⁾ questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

D When we write or speak it can sound strange to give a very exact figure. Instead we use vague language. Complete the table with the phrases from the box.

a little over 50% almost 50% ~~a lot more than 50%~~ around 50% far less than 50% considerably more than 50% much less than 50% nearly 50% slightly more than 50%

15 Sentence structure

A Read the information about sentence structure.

A simple affirmative sentence in English typically has the order Subject + Verb + Object. Each part can be a phrase rather than a single word:

There can be an adverb phrase as well, and it often comes at the end. Adverbs say how (quickly), where (at our offices) or when (next week) something happens. If we have several adverbs together, the usual word order is HOW – WHERE – WHEN. Look at these examples:

Now rewrite the sentences (1–4) below with the correct word order. Start sentences with a capital letter.

- 1 me you may remember. we business cards last week at the Trade Fair exchanged.
.....
- 2 well is going our advertising campaign. we should until June consider extending it.
.....
- 3 about availability of rooms in July to ask I am writing. I need for 3 nights a single room.
.....
- 4 next weekend to my parents I am going. for a long time I haven't them seen.
.....

B Read the information on making complex sentences.

You can make complex sentences by combining simple ones:

- There are two main clauses, joined by the linking word 'but'.
- The phrase I can't ... occasion is a full clause, with a subject, verb, object and adverb.
- The phrase I have ... year is a full clause, with a subject, verb, object and adverb.

Now rewrite sentences (1–5) with the correct word order.

1 I am writing to let you know from Head Office in Munich I am coming to visit next month that your offices in Moscow.

2 This will be in Central Europe part of a visit to all our subsidiaries that I am making.

3 to consult with you I will take the opportunity about our strategic plan for Central Europe, which for some time we have been working on.

4 I would also like our production facility while I am in Moscow to visit and if there is time, as well some of the local suppliers.

5 I will contact you again when I can travel the exact dates as soon as I know.

C Put the lines in the emails below into the correct order.

C Each paragraph in the emails below has three mistakes. Correct the mistakes.

Email 1

It was a pleasure to meet you in Budapest last week and I would like to thank you for your interest in our office products. You mentioned that you were going ^{to} visit Turkey soon, and when you do I like to invite you to visit our factory outside Istanbul. We would be very pleased to showing you round our new factory and modern production facilities.

As you would being our guest, we would of course arrange for you to stay in a good hotel and take you out to dinner. Please to let me know when you have finalised your travel plans. I look forward to see you in Turkey in the near future.

Email 2

You will all be aware that we been interviewing candidates for the position of Marketing Director. I am now pleased to inform that we have appointed an excellent candidate, Simone Verhart. Simone has worked in marketing for over fifteen years and I am sure that she will be a valuable member of team.

I would like to invite you a short lunchtime reception in Conference Room 2 next Tuesday 5 Feb where you will have chance to meet Simone on an informal basis. Refreshments will be available. Please let me know if you can come so that I can to estimate numbers.

Email 3

I am write re our order for 1,000 pieces of footwear, reference VK899. The money was transfer to your account on 23 January and we yet haven't received the goods. You promised in your email of 15 Dec that you would ship within 7 days of a firm order.

I called your office this morning but the secretary told that you were away until tomorrow (Thursday). Please call me at the morning and let me know what is happening. We have customers waiting for these pieces and the delay is causing us for to lose business.

Email 4

It has been brought to my attention that security in the building is not so good as it could be. As you may be aware, one of our secretaries had her bag stolen yesterday. In the light of this, I would like to remember you to take care of your personal possessions, particular at those times of the day when the building is not busy.

I am going to prepare a report on how security could be improved, and I could be grateful for any suggestions that you have. Please email me with your ideas by the end of next week at the later. I also have a word with our security staff in reception to see if there are any procedures we can improve there.

17 Punctuation and spelling

- A Review the rules for full stops, commas and capital letters. Then rewrite the email, putting in a) capital letters b) four full stops and c) two commas.

A full stop (.) is used at the end of a sentence.

A comma (,) is used:

- like a brief pause in speech, to make the sentence easier to read.
- to separate words in a list (except for the last two items where we use and).
- after many linking words that come at the beginning of a sentence (like However).

Capital letters (also called 'upper case' letters) are used:

- to begin a sentence.
- for names of people, places, events and organisations.
- for job titles.
- for nationalities and languages.
- for calendar information like days, months etc.

dear antoine curiel

i am the sales manager for genetech a small biotechnology company based in cologne i attended your presentation at the eurotech conference in paris in november and we met briefly afterwards here is the information i said i would send including our latest annual report i hope it is of interest

best regards

michael bretz

- B Review the rules for apostrophes. Then rewrite the email, putting in a) capital letters, b) apostrophes and c) four commas.

An apostrophe (') is used:

- in short forms to show that one or more letters have been left out
- before the possessive -s to show ownership or the relationship between people hi jean – how are you? thanks for your email about mr williams. in fact im meeting him on friday 16 march. we were meeting in his brussels office and im a bit nervous about it because i dont speak french very well! hes the marketing director of the company and reports directly to the ceo. its going to be an interesting meeting and i havent been to belgium before so im looking forward to it. anyway ill be in touch when i get back.

C Review the rules for colons and semi-colons. Then rewrite the email, putting in a) capital letters, b) apostrophes, c) two commas, d) one colon and e) two semi-colons.

A colon (:) is used to introduce items in a list.

A semi-colon (;) is used to separate long items in a list, particularly if there are commas inside some items. It is also used to join two sentences with a related meaning (this is rare).

Angela – have you read johns report yet? i think its main conclusions are correct. this is basically what hes saying sales are flat and have been so for months theres no new products in the pipeline despite our large r&d budget and our share price is at its lowest point since last november. i hope the board take it seriously.

D How good is your spelling? If you have a spell-checker that works with email then it is not really a problem, but many people don't. Underline the spelling mistakes in the email and write the correction below. There are 30 incorrect words.

Hi Tim! Thanks for your email wich I recieved some time ago. Sorry I havn't replied before now, but I've been realy busy. Actually, it's good news – I've got a job! I went for loads of interviews and finally I was sucessful – I'm working for a small indipendent record company. The job is very intrtesting – I help to organise tours for the groups, make arangements for there accomodation in the cityes where they play, things like that. I've been doing it since the begining of Februry, and its grate – completly difrent to my old job working in a restarant! It's a good oportunity for me. Hopefully, if the peopel in the company like me, I'll get more responsabilities and more mony. Then I coud even think about visitting you in Ingland! Anyway, keep in touch, and I look foward to seeing you soon.

C Below you will see eight emails between a supplier of ornamental plants and a hotel manager. Put them into the correct order. Section B will help you.

- (a) Thank you for your email received today. We supply and maintain large, ornamental plants for hotel lobbies and company reception areas. We have been in business for more than ten years and have some of the city's biggest hotels among our clients. Please see the attached document for more details of our products and prices. If you need any more information, please let me know.

(b) I saw your advertisement in a recent copy of Hotel and Catering Monthly. I am interested in your Plant Solutions service for hotel lobbies. Please send more details.

(c) Your visit to our hotel last Tuesday was very useful, and I now have the agreement of my line manager to go ahead with the contract. I am attaching our order as a Word file. Please acknowledge receipt of this email and give us a delivery date.

- (d) Further to your last email, I am happy to provide you with the information you need:
On an order for twelve plants we could not give any discount. We believe our prices are very competitive and offer excellent value for money.
Our terms of payment are one month's charges in advance.
Yes, it would be useful to come to the site. Is next Tuesday morning at 10am convenient for you? I can use the opportunity to clarify any other questions that you might have.
- (e) I am writing about a visit by one of your maintenance staff earlier today. He left a lot of water on the carpets where he had watered the plants. This was not the high standard of service that we have come to expect from you in the past.
- (f) Thanks for your prompt reply. I am interested in obtaining four large plants for our lobby (variety 'Grandifolia') and a further eight for the restaurant area (variety 'Graciosa'). Would you give a discount on an order of this size? Also, can you state your terms of payment as I could not find these on the document you attached? One final thing – do you need to come to the site to see if there is sufficient light? Our address is below.
- (g) We are very sorry to hear that the service you received from our company was not up to the usual standard. Unfortunately, a lot of our regular maintenance staff have been ill recently and we had to employ temporary workers. We appreciate the time you have taken to bring this matter to our attention, and as we value our good customer relations, we are willing to give you one week's free maintenance. I apologise again for any inconvenience caused.
- (h) It is now 28 days since you accepted delivery of our plants. We attach an invoice for next month's charges. Please pay this asap. Thank you.

Email 2

Dear Mr Witkiewicz

Thank you for your email of 2 August inquiring about a possible order for our products ref nos. TG67 and K800. I will go through your questions in order.

- 1 In ⁽¹³⁾ r..... to discounts, we would be happy to let you have a discount of 5% on an order of this size.
- 2 With ⁽¹⁴⁾ r..... to your request for credit, unfortunately, we are not able to offer 60 days credit to ⁽¹⁵⁾ fi..... - t..... customers. However, I am sure we can find an acceptable ⁽¹⁶⁾ com..... In view of your reputation in the market, our credit ⁽¹⁷⁾ co..... department will agree on 30 days, with no pre-payment necessary. Our normal ⁽¹⁸⁾ pro..... is to check all bank guarantees, so we will be requiring ⁽¹⁹⁾ fu..... details if you decide to go ahead with your order.
- 3 Your final question is about delivery times. We can supply the items you require directly from ⁽²⁰⁾ st....., and the goods will leave our warehouse within 3 working days of a firm order. Please also note that we have recently improved the functionality of our website, and it is now possible to ⁽²¹⁾ pl..... an order on-line. Alternatively, you can print out the attached order form. Just ⁽²²⁾ f..... it in and return it to us by mail.

I have arranged for a member of our customer services ⁽²³⁾ t..... to give you a call later in the week. They will be able to ⁽²⁴⁾ d..... with any further points.

Thank you for your interest in our products.

If you have any queries on this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you for your cooperation.

Final demand

I wrote to you on 21 March and 7 April regarding the balance of €12,600 on your account. I attach copies of both emails. This sum is ⁽⁷⁾ We are very concerned that the matter has not yet received your attention. Please ⁽⁸⁾ within seven days.
If we do not receive payment from you, we ⁽⁹⁾ but to take legal action to recover the full amount.

22 Describing business trends

A Review the language of trends.

1 Complete the pairs of opposites with the words from the box.

a) to go up / to go down	e) to increase / to	be down	fall
b) to rise / to	f) to grow / to	be stable	get worse
c) to improve / to	g) to be up / to	decrease	go down
d) to reach a peak / to	h) to fluctuate / to	shrink	hit a low

2 Complete these irregular verb forms.

go – we nt... – g..... rise – ro..... – ri..... grow – gr..... – gr..... fall – fe..... – fa.....

3 Complete the sentences with one of these words: gradually, sharply, significantly, slightly, slowly, steadily.

- a) Sales increased slowly (not fast) d) Sales increased (slowly over a long time)
 b) Sales increased (suddenly) e) Sales increased (noticeably)
 c) Sales increased (a little) f) Sales increased (gradually and regularly)

4 Change the verb + adverb form into an adjective + noun form.

to improve gradually ⇒ a grad..... impro..... to grow slowly ⇒ sl..... gro.....

5 Complete the sentences with one of these words: by, by, for, from, in, of, since, to.

- a) Sales increased 3%. (after a verb)
 b) There was an increase 3%. (after a noun and before an amount)
 c) There was a 3% increase sales. (after a noun and before the topic)
 d) Sales increased 15,000 17,500 – so they increased 2,500.
 e) Sales have been increasing January (point in time) / six months (period of time).

B Underline the correct words in the email.

Petra – here are the main points from the second quarter results:

At the start of the quarter sales stood ⁽¹⁾in/at $25 million. Then they ⁽²⁾rose/rised over the three months ⁽³⁾to/until $27.6 million – an increase ⁽⁴⁾by/of around 12%.

It's even better if you look at the year-on-year ⁽⁵⁾quantities/figures. Last year sales increased ⁽⁶⁾by/with only 6% over the same quarter.

The trend is also good for the rest of this year. We're looking at ⁽⁷⁾steady/steadily ⁽⁸⁾growing/growth going forward.

Congratulations are due to everyone. However, there is a downside. Market share is not growing as fast as sales. In fact, it's been more or less stable ⁽⁹⁾for/since the last few years ⁽¹⁰⁾at/with around 18%. In a ⁽¹¹⁾rapid/rapidly growing market our competitors have benefited as much as us, and in the future we must ⁽¹²⁾to watch/watch this very closely.

I look forward to hearing your comments. Regards, Mark

- C Review the language of forecasts (what is likely to happen in the future). Complete the table with the words/phrases from the box. Be careful: two are not used.

are likely to could could not I expect I doubt ~~I'm sure~~ may not might might not won't probably probably won't won't

	✓	X
Definite	Sales will definitely increase. (1) I'm sure that sales will increase.	Sales definitely (2) increase. I'm certain that sales won't increase.
Probable	(3) that sales will increase. Sales (5) increase.	Sales (4) increase. (6) that sales will increase.
Possible	Sales (7) increase. Sales (9) increase.	Sales (8) increase. Sales (10) increase.

Now match the verb groups 11–13 with the ends of the sentences a)–c). Be careful!

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 11 We expect/would like | a) to increase sales next year. |
| 12 We expect/would like/hope/intend/plan/want | b) sales will increase next year. |
| 13 We expect/think/hope/believe/imagine/predict/forecast | c) sales to increase next year. |

Note: we can usually use will or going to to make predictions and there is very little difference. However, if there is strong evidence in the present situation then going to is more common.

I think sales will probably increase next year. (it's my general belief)

I think sales are going to increase next year. (I am looking at some figures right now)

- D Underline the correct words or phrases in the email.

Petra – thanks for your comments on the second quarter results. You asked me for my thoughts about the longer term, so here they are:
Sales are ⁽¹⁾possible/likely to end this year ⁽²⁾with/at about $34m. I think that profits ⁽³⁾to increase/will increase at an even faster rate, due to our recent cost-cutting measures.
Next year the situation is a lot more ⁽⁴⁾uncertain/unlikely. This is because of the general economic climate in which we are operating. Inflation ⁽⁵⁾will probably/probably will start to rise, and I think the Central Bank is planning ⁽⁶⁾interest rates to raise/to raise interest rates as a result. That's bad news for us. Our debt repayments to the bank are ⁽⁷⁾likely/likely to go up ⁽⁸⁾considerably/considerable.
Unemployment is also ⁽⁹⁾to increase/increasing. Eventually this ⁽¹⁰⁾might be/might have an impact on consumer sentiment, although the rate of increase is quite slow and we ⁽¹¹⁾probably won't/won't probably be in such a bad situation as during the last recession.
We can discuss this tomorrow in more detail. I have to leave now – I didn't bring my umbrella and it looks like ⁽¹²⁾it will/it's going to rain! Mark.

23 Cause, effect, contrast

A Review the language of cause and effect. Complete the sentences with a word from the box.

as	because	due	from	in	of	of	therefore	to	to
----	---------	-----	------	----	----	----	-----------	----	----

Cause ⇒ Effect

- Our new marketing campaign should lead / result / create a big increase in sales.
- Next month we will start a new marketing campaign. So, / , / Because of this, / a result, we should see a big increase in sales.

Effect ⇐ Cause

- The big increase in sales last month resulted / was a result / was because / was due our new marketing campaign.
- We saw a big increase in sales last month of / to our new marketing campaign.

Note: 'We saw a big increase in sales last month because we had a new marketing campaign.' (NOT ~~because of we had~~ ...)

Note: using so/such to express cause

so + adjective (+ that):

Our campaign was so successful (that) we ...

such + noun (+ that):

Our campaign was such a success (that) we ...

such + adjective + noun (+ that):

It was such a successful campaign (that) we ...

B Underline the correct words or phrases in the email.

Petra, I've had ⁽¹⁾so/such a busy week, but finally I've had a chance to talk to Marketing and look at the figures in more detail. Here are our thoughts on the recent trends in sales:

- The market as a whole is growing, and ⁽²⁾as a result/because of we have benefited along with all our other competitors.
- However, this fact alone cannot explain why sales are growing ⁽³⁾so/such fast. If you look at the figures you'll see that much of the increase is ⁽⁴⁾due to/result from the success of just two products, Viva and Avanti. We had a big advertising campaign for Viva before Christmas, which ⁽⁵⁾resulted to/led to the peak in sales in December. Avanti on the other hand has been selling well throughout the year, probably ⁽⁶⁾because of/because it already has a good reputation in the market.
- We must make sure that our new lines are equally successful. ⁽⁷⁾So/As a result of, someone needs to prepare a detailed marketing plan and circulate it to everyone. Jim should probably deal with this ⁽⁸⁾because of/because his work on Viva and Avanti. I'll suggest it to him.

Hope this is helpful, Mark.

Email 2: informal

Laura, I'm writing ⁽¹¹⁾ for all our family to say thank you very much for letting us stay at your seaside house at the weekend, we really enjoyed it. By now you have probably heard from your neighbours about the ⁽¹²⁾ of my teenage son Harry and his friends when they came back from the pub late on Saturday night. ⁽¹³⁾ all the noise they made, and for the damage they caused to your neighbour's garden. ⁽¹⁴⁾ I will do everything possible to ⁽¹⁵⁾ ⁽¹⁶⁾ contact your neighbours directly and offer to pay for any damage. ⁽¹⁷⁾ I'll also send them some flowers and a box of chocolates. I've already spoken to my son ⁽¹⁸⁾ and he promises it won't happen again. Once again, I am really sorry. ⁽¹⁹⁾ ⁽²⁰⁾ - I'll be at home at the weekend.

B Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–10) with the endings (a–j).

26 Report structure and key phrases

A Match the different sections of a report (1–5) with their definitions (a–e).

- | | |
|-------------------------|--|
| 1 Introduction | a) The 'body' of the report: a presentation of arguments and evidence. |
| 2 Background | b) The subject of the report, who asked for it, why it has been written. |
| 3 Findings | c) Practical suggestions for action, often written as a list or bullet points. |
| 4 Conclusion | d) The context: what has happened up to now and the general situation. |
| 5 Recommendations | e) A judgment or decision based on the discussion in the 'body'. |

Note: a report may not have all these sections, and in an email a 'section' may simply be a single sentence.

B Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–12) with the endings (a–l).

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 As requested at the Board meeting | a) on the figures sent to me by different departments. |
| 2 The purpose of the report is | b) where cost-cutting measures are necessary. |

Subject: Cost-cutting measures

As requested at the Board meeting of 18 April, here is my report. The full report is attached as a Word document, but I have written a brief summary below.

Introduction

The ⁽¹⁾..... is to suggest ways to reduce costs across the company.

It is ⁽²⁾..... sent to me by different departments last month. I have ⁽³⁾..... into three sections: background, findings and recommendations.

Background

As ⁽⁴⁾..... in table 1 in the attached document, demand for our products has been falling over the last year, and sales and profits are both down. This has ⁽⁵⁾..... where cost-cutting measures are necessary.

Findings

There are three main areas where cost reductions are possible:

- The marketing budget is very high. As mentioned ⁽⁶⁾....., sales are going down, but we are still spending large sums on magazine advertising and street posters. This is not justified.
- Production costs are also high. Table 2 in the report ⁽⁷⁾..... raw material costs have gone up by 12% over the last year. We must find a way to bring these down.
- We may also have to dismiss a small number of administrative staff, which will be very unpopular.
⁽⁸⁾..... of the full report for suggestions on how to proceed.

Recommendations

In conclusion, ⁽⁹⁾..... the company should be able to cut costs significantly by the end of the year. My specific recommendations are ⁽¹⁰⁾.....:

- 1 Marketing Dept to ⁽¹¹⁾..... in the advertising budget of 10% or 15%.
- 2 Production Dept to ⁽¹²⁾..... of using different suppliers to bring down materials costs.
- 3 Head Office to ⁽¹³⁾..... for cutting a limited number of jobs, in case the situation deteriorates.

Please have a look at the full report and ⁽¹⁴⁾..... your comments by 2 June at the latest. These will then be circulated to all departmental managers in time for the meeting on 16 June.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

27 Linking words and relative clauses

- A First, read the information about linking words and phrases. Then read through the email and underline 18 linking words/phrases in it, not including 'and', 'but' and 'or'.

Linking words and phrases join one idea to another. They help the reader to understand the structure of your argument. There are two types:

- Words in the middle of a sentence that join two clauses: and, but, because, so etc.
- Words/phrases at the beginning of a sentence: However, Therefore, In relation to etc. These are often followed by a comma.

Subject: Arrangements for sales conference

Marcia – many thanks for sending the details of the 165 participants coming to our sales conference in November. Here is my report on the arrangements that will be necessary.

1 Accommodation

In previous years we have used the Belmont Hotel. In general, we have always had good feedback from delegates on the Belmont. However, it is quite far from the conference centre, and in addition they have increased their prices recently. As a result, I am going to get an alternative quote from the York Hotel this year.

2 Conference Centre

In relation to numbers, the hall seats 200 people, so there shouldn't be any problem. Nevertheless, if we get a lot of late bookings we may need a bigger hall. I will monitor the situation closely. Obviously, if people book after the deadline we may have to write back and say we are full.

On another point, we need to make sure that the amplification system is working properly, as last year several delegates complained that the sound was too low at the back of the hall.

3 Speakers

Both outside speakers are confirmed. In particular, the well-known author Sandra Brett has agreed to give a talk on 'Motivation', and I'm sure it will be very well received.

4 Food and drink

Last year this was a problem. Firstly, we had a lot of complaints about the food. Secondly, there was some confusion among delegates about whether they should stay in the conference centre for lunch or go outside. In fact, if delegates do want to go outside and get some fresh air it is not a problem. So this year I am going to get quotes from catering companies for two options, that is to say one for coffee breaks and snacks only, and the other for lunch as well. Alternatively, we could just use the café in the conference centre and not employ an outside firm, but I don't think that will create a good impression.

I think that's all. Let me know if there's anything else, especially if you suddenly get a lot of late bookings.

28 Being direct and brief

- A Look at the differences in style between these two emails. Notice how version 2 uses the key words (underlined) from version 1. The form of the words may be different.

Version 1

Subject: My ideas following last Friday's meeting
In the attached Word document you'll find my thoughts about the marketing plan that we discussed in last Friday's meeting, and in particular my response to Jenny's points about needing a new type of packaging to appeal to a younger age group. I think she raised some important issues, and so I'm circulating these ideas to everyone who was present at the meeting. Please insert your comments in the attached document and email it back to me as soon as possible.

Version 2

Subject: Ideas for packaging
We need a new type of packaging – as we all agreed in the last meeting. My ideas are in the attached document. Comments please asap.

Match the descriptions (1–6) below by underlining the most appropriate version, 1 or 2.

- 1 The email is direct and brief. Version 1/2
- 2 The email is friendly and shows more respect to the reader. Version 1/2
- 3 The action required is very clear. Version 1/2
- 4 The exact action required is not so clear. Version 1/2
- 5 Unless the reader knows the writer well, the email could sound a bit aggressive. Version 1/2
- 6 There may be too much in the email to write in a busy working day. Version 1/2

- B Rewrite the email below. The maximum length is 50 words, including the subject line. Some key words have been underlined to help you, but you may need to change their form.

Subject: Confirmation of our meeting as discussed by phone
I'm writing regarding our phone call earlier this morning. It was a very useful discussion and I am much clearer now about your objectives. At the end of the call you suggested a time and place for our next meeting, the lobby of the Intercontinental Hotel in Barcelona at 2.00 pm on 7th February. I believe you will be staying at the hotel at that time. I said that I would email you to confirm the meeting. Well, for me the time and place is very good – I am free all afternoon. I look forward to seeing you there at that time and I hope that in the evening you can be my guest for dinner at a good restaurant in Barcelona.

Subject:

C Cross out 20 words which are not necessary in this email.

Many thanks for your email which I received yesterday. Tuesday at 10.30 is fine for me as my 9am meeting will be finished by then. Can you send me the latest sales figures before the meeting? I look forward to seeing you there.

D Cross out 20 words which are not necessary in this email.

I am writing to all my colleagues to let you know that I will be away from my office from 14–21 November on a visit to Hungary. Please direct all questions that you have to Helga in my absence.

E Underline the key words then rewrite the email. The maximum length is 60 words, including the subject line.

Subject: Your info re market developments in the Baltic States
Many thanks for getting in touch last week and sending me all the information about market changes in the Baltic States. It was really useful, particularly the graphs about expected demand for consumer products over the next five years. I've forwarded your email to our representative in Estonia, Krista Kilvet. She has just taken over from Doris Kareva, who I think you met in Stuttgart. Would you be interested in giving a presentation at our Head Office on the whole political and economic background in the region? I'm sure the Board would be interested as we may be making some large investments there in the near future.

Subject:

F Underline the key words then rewrite the email. The maximum length is 60 words, including the subject line.

Subject: Thank you for your help at the conference in London
Thank you so much for all your help during the conference on the future of the airline industry that I attended in London last week. Your help was really appreciated as I had never been to the UK before and everything was very new to me! The conference was really interesting. Of course, while I was there I also had the great pleasure to meet your UK sales team. They are a wonderful group of people and I would like you to give my best regards to all of them. As you know, there are plans to bring some of the UK staff over here to Dubai at the end of the year to see how we run the Dubai office. I look forward to seeing you then.

Suggestions

What about (+ -ing)/Shall we ...? 4 /

- B Here are more ways to make your language polite/diplomatic. Complete the words in each sentence with the missing letters.

There will be a delay.	⇒	1 I'm af r a i d there will be a sm _ _ _ delay.
There is a problem.	⇒	2 It se _ _ _ we have a sl _ _ _ _ problem.
I disagree.	⇒	3 I th _ _ _ there m _ _ be an issue here.

That will be very expensive.	⇒	7 That mi _ _ _ be qu _ _ _ expensive.
That will be very expensive	⇒	8 That won' _ be ch _ _ _ .

- C Rewrite each sentence with the words in brackets to make them more polite and diplomatic.

- Can we meet again next week? (wonder/could)
- You've made a mistake on the invoice. (there/seems)
- The quality is low. (not very)
- Shall I speak to Mr Baker? (would you like)
- Your estimate for the cost is too low. (might/a bit)
- We should wait. (wouldn't/better idea)
- It's a bad idea. (honest/I'm not sure/good)
- Let's cancel the project. (perhaps/should think about)

D Read the situation. Then complete the words in each reply with the missing letters.

Somebody sends you an email: I've just had a great idea! We could have a team meeting every Monday morning at 8am to plan the week's work. You want to disagree:

- 1 It sou~~nds~~... like a good idea, but I'm not sure it would work in pra.....

- 5 I know what you m....., but I can see one or two problems with that.
- 6 It's a good idea, but d..... you think 9am wo..... be b.....r?

Look back at sentences (1-6) and find:

- a) four examples of Yes, but ... /..... /..... /.....
- b) a normal question to show doubt
- c) two negative questions to show doubt /.....
- d) an introductory phrase to prepare the reader for disagreement

E Make the emails below more polite or diplomatic by changing the words in italics. Use techniques from sections A-C.

Luisa, thanks for your email about the new brochure and the attached file with the quote from the printers. ⁽¹⁾It is ⁽²⁾very expensive. ⁽³⁾Isn't it a better idea to contact some other printing firms and get some alternative quotes? 30 Being friendly

- A There are many words and phrases that you can use at the beginning of a sentence to sound friendly. Complete the table with the words or phrases from the box below.

Anyway	Apparently	Basically	By the way	Frankly	In fact	Luckily	Of course
You heard something, but are not sure:				It seems that	1
Something is true, but surprising:				Actually	2
Something is obvious or already known:				Obviously	3
Bad /good fortune:				Unfortunately	4
Saying what you really think:				To be honest	5
Going back to a topic:				Well/So	6
Changing the topic:				Anyway/So	7
Summarising with the most important point:				Anyway	8

- B Complete the email with words or phrases from section A. Several answers may be possible. There is one solution that uses each line in the table above just once.

Hi, I'm just back from India – I had a fantastic time. ⁽¹⁾....., it's probably one of the best holidays I've ever had. Did you get the email I sent from Delhi? I didn't have much time to write because it was late and the owner of the Internet café wanted to close up for the night. ⁽²⁾....., he kept it open for a few more minutes so I could finish emailing. ⁽³⁾....., as I was saying, I really enjoyed myself. I went to Agra to see the Taj Mahal, and I also went to an amazing wildlife reserve called Sariska. ⁽⁴⁾....., I did have the usual stomach problems at the beginning of the trip, but nothing too bad. ⁽⁵⁾....., have you heard the news about Anoushka? ⁽⁶⁾....., she's just met a guy she really likes and they're getting married next year! His name is Walter. She's only known him for a month. Sara says she met him at a party last week but he didn't seem very friendly. ⁽⁷⁾....., I always thought Anoushka rushed into things too quickly. What do you think? Don't you think she's a bit young to get married? ⁽⁸⁾....., it's her decision at the end of the day. That's all for now. Hope to hear from you soon. Bye!

Note:

- The words in the gaps make the email sound friendly. Try reading it without these words – it still makes sense, but it is too direct.
- The words in the gaps can help to make the email easier to follow. They show the structure of the text, how the writer is going to continue.
- The words in the gaps are followed by a comma in writing. This is like pausing in speech.

- C Read the email below twice. The second time you read it, miss out all the words underlined. What is the difference?

Hi Patti! Thanks for your email. Your new job sounds really great – I know that you've wanted to work as a graphic designer for ages and ages, and now it's finally happened! Congratulations! I'm sure you'll do really well in the job. Well, what about my news? I arrived in Prague about a month ago. It was quite difficult at first. Of course I couldn't speak the language, and finding a place to live wasn't easy. Then my friend Belen and I found a lovely little flat in the old part of town. It's quite small, but it's full of character and we love it. I'm working as a waitress in a cocktail bar. It's okay – I don't suppose I'll do it for long. but it's a way to earn some money. Anyway, that's all for now. I hope you're well, and give my regards to your family – especially your mother. She was so kind to me when I came and stayed at your house. All the best, Florencia.

Check your answer in the Answer key at the back of the book.

- D Rewrite the email with the words and phrases from the box to make it more friendly. Some of the words and phrases like really, to be honest and First can go in several places. You may also need to change the punctuation in places.

First, really a bit hundreds of a few lines all day long to be honest as you probably know, Oh well, that's life! the next thing is she told me last month
Anyway, that's all for now but writing to you has helped because I'm sure you'll have great fun
Things have been a bit difficult recently. but I think it's best for both of us

Stefan, just to let you know that I can't join you next weekend. I'm sorry, but I've already arranged to go to Paris. I'm staying with Bernard in his flat, and I really need a break. I've broken up with Rosanna. We've been having a lot of arguments recently, and she's going to move to Hamburg. It's a pity. Then, my job. I have a lot of responsibilities in the office and it's quite stressful. We have customers who call and I never get a break. I'm sorry if I sound depressed. Hope to see you soon. All the best, Wilhelm.

31 Advice and suggestions

- A Read the email exchange between two friends, then match the phrases in italics (1–10) with the phrases (a–j) below.

Hi Toby

Hope you're well.

⁽¹⁾I've got a bit of a problem, and I'd really like your advice. You know I'm doing that secretarial course. Well, it's really boring and I hate it. I've already paid for the course and it runs till the end of June. ⁽²⁾Do you have any ideas about what I should do? ⁽³⁾Please email me, or give me a call when you get the chance.

Sandra

Hi Sandra

⁽⁴⁾I'm sorry you're having such a hard time at the moment, but ⁽⁵⁾I think you should finish the course as you've only got a few months to go. You could concentrate on increasing your typing speed – that's always useful.

Toby

Toby – no, I really hate the course and I don't think I can last till the end of June. ⁽⁶⁾What should I do?

Sandra

Well, ⁽⁷⁾what about going to a careers advice centre then? Or doing something really different, like travelling abroad for a year. ⁽⁸⁾That way, you could be thinking about what you really want to do with your life. ⁽⁹⁾I think it's better than just giving up the course and doing nothing.

⁽¹⁰⁾I hope I've helped a bit.

Toby

Great idea, Toby! Thanks. I'm off to the travel agent's right now.

- In general, do you think phrases a)–j) are more formal or more informal than those in the emails?

B Each phrase below has two words the wrong way round. Correct the mistakes this like.

Asking for advice

- Opening: 1 I've got a bit of a problem, and maybe can you help.
Asking for advice: 2 I was wondering if you had any ideas about what should I do.
Closing: 3 Please write and let know me what you think.

Giving advice

- Opening: 4 I'm sorry you're having a such hard time at the moment.
Giving advice: 5 I think might it be a good idea to finish the course.
Result: 6 This would mean that could you think about what to do next.
Options: 7 I think this option would preferable be to just giving up the course.
Closing: 8 I hope have I been of some help.

It was a great evening wasn't it! I really enjoyed the meal, and it was nice to see Mary and Roger again. Have you had a chance to speak to Lucy yet? Don't worry if you haven't, I will be seeing her tomorrow.

About next week – the film you suggested sounds great. I've been talking to some colleagues at work about it. I'm not sure about the day, though. Tuesday might be difficult. Perhaps Wednesday would be better? Let me know. I'm going to my parents at the weekend – I'm looking forward to it. They live in Chichester. Have you ever been there?

Sometime soon we need to talk about holiday plans for next summer. Things are still a bit uncertain at my work. It might be possible to take two weeks off in July, but I can't be sure. Three weeks would be impossible. It's a pity. Anyway, I've got to go now. I hope you're well. I'll see you next week.

A

Version 1 is not appropriate for an internal company communication. It is too long, and it is not clear what action the reader should take. Version 2 is better because it is easy to understand and has a clear structure.

B

Situation: Mr Bianchi of Ferrara Textiles will be looking around the company tomorrow, from about 12.00.

Objective: It is important to make a good impression.

Strategy: Please:

- 1 Inform all staff in your department.
- 2 Remind them to greet Mr Bianchi by name and take time to answer his questions.
- 3 Arrange lunch breaks so that there is always someone available in your section.

Closing comment: Thank you for your cooperation.

C

Model answer:

Subject: training course

I have found some information about a computer training course. I think it would be useful for someone from our department to attend. The details are as follows:

Course: Spreadsheets for Financial Planning.

Dates: 4 June - 8 June

Times: 18.00 – 19.30 every evening

Cost: €750

I am free and would like to go. Would it be possible for the company to pay?

Thank you.

D

Model answer:

Subject: Mrs Rothe's retirement

As you may know, Mrs Rothe will be retiring at the end of the year. She has been with the company for 15 years.

We would like to organise a leaving party for her, and present her with a small gift. Claudia will be coming round if you want to make a contribution.

The party will be after work on 20 December, in the main conference room. Everyone is welcome.

I am writing to thank you for your hospitality during my recent trip to Paris. The meetings were very productive, and I am sure that they lay the basis for a good long-term business relationship.

As well as the business side of things, I really appreciated the time you took to show me Notre Dame, and the wonderful meal that we had afterwards. The next time that you are in Munich it will be my pleasure to return your kindness.

Please give my regards to your colleagues in the Paris office, it was a great pleasure to meet them all.

Email 2

Thank you for taking the time to attend an interview with us last week. Unfortunately, we have to inform you that your application has not been successful.

As we mentioned in the interview, we had many applicants for this position and the standard of candidates was very high. While we were impressed with your interview, we did not feel that you have the necessary skills and experience for the position.

We appreciate your interest in working with us, and we would like to take this opportunity to wish you every success in the future.

Dear Antoine Curiel

I am the Sales Manager for Genetech, a small biotechnology company based in Cologne. I attended your presentation at the Eurotech conference in Paris in November and we met briefly afterwards. Here is the information I said I would send, including our latest annual report. I hope it is of interest.

Best regards

Michael Bretz

B

Hi Jean – how are you? Thanks for your email about
Mr Williams. In fact, I'm meeting him on Friday
16 March. We're meeting in his Brussels office and I'm a bit nervous about it because I don't speak French very well!
He's the Marketing Director of the company, and reports directly to the CEO. It's going to be an interesting meeting, and I haven't been to Belgium before, so I'm looking forward to it. Anyway, I'll be in touch when I get back.

C

Angela – have you read John's report yet? I think its main conclusions are correct. This is basically what he's saying:
sales are flat, and have been so for months; there's no new products in the pipeline, despite our large R&D budget; and our share price is at its lowest point since last November. I hope the Board take it seriously.

Subject: Meeting 7 Feb

Re our phone call, the meeting place you suggested is fine – lobby of the Intercontinental Hotel in Barcelona, 2.00 on 7 Feb. Look forward to seeing you there. Please be my guest for dinner in the evening.

C

Many thanks for your email which I received yesterday. Tuesday at 10.30 is fine for me as my 9am meeting will be finished by then. Can you send me the latest sales figures before the meeting? I look forward to seeing you there.

~~I am writing to all my colleagues to let you know that~~ I will be away from my office from 14–21 November ~~on a visit to Hungary~~. Please direct all questions ~~that you have~~ to Helga in my absence.

Model answer:

Subject: Baltic States

Thanks for sending me the info about the Baltic States – it was really useful. I've forwarded your email to our representative in Estonia, Krista Kilvet. Would you be interested in giving a presentation at Head Office on the political and economic background in the region? I'm sure the Board would be interested.

Model answer:

Stefan, just a few lines to let you know that I can't join you next weekend. I'm really sorry because I'm sure you'll have great fun, but I've already arranged to go to Paris. I'm staying with Bernard in his flat, and to be honest I really need a break. Things have been a bit difficult recently. First, I've broken up with Rosanna, as you probably know. We've been having a lot of arguments recently, and she told me last month she is going to move to Hamburg. It's a pity, but I think it's best for both of us. Then, the next thing is my job. I have a lot of responsibilities in the office and it's quite stressful. We have hundreds of customers who call all day long and I never get a break. Oh well, that's life! I'm sorry if I sound a bit depressed, but writing to you has helped. Anyway, that's all for now. Hope to see you soon. All the best, Wilhelm.

Dear Sir/Madam //

With reference to your advertisement on the JobFinders.com website, I am interested in applying for the post of tour leader for Italian school students. //

I am 26 years old and am currently studying for a diploma in Tourism at Naples University. After that I hope to follow a career in the travel industry. During the last few summer holidays I have worked as a youth leader in Italy, and I enjoyed the work very much. Next summer I would like to do something more varied and challenging, and for this reason I am interested in the job of tour leader, taking students to London. //

I feel that I would be well-suited for this job as I enjoy working with young people. I have a lot of energy and enthusiasm and am also responsible and reliable. //

I have attached my CV as a Word document. You will notice that I have supervised children on a range of sports and cultural activities as well as dealing with transport arrangements and tickets. You will also notice that my English is good and I have First Certificate grade A. //

I would be grateful if you would consider my application. You will see from my attached CV that two people can be contacted as references, one is a university professor and the other is from the summer programme where I worked last year. I am available for interview in Naples any weekday afternoon, and you can email me or telephone me on the number below. //

I look forward to hearing from you soon. //

Yours faithfully

English

Email English will help you to write effective and convincing emails, whether for work, study or other purposes.

Language practice

Based on hundreds of real emails, Email English deals systematically with key language for constructing effective and convincing emails in English.

- Basics, including opening and closing emails, giving information, making requests, arranging meetings and checking understanding.
- Specific situations, such as negotiating, asking for payment and dealing with a supplier or customer.
- Skills such as describing business trends, relating cause and effect and reporting.
- General grammar problems, for instance, sentence structure, verb forms, comparison, punctuation...
- Communication styles: formal and informal, direct and indirect, ways of seeming more friendly.

In addition to clear presentations of language, Email English contains a wealth of practice activities, all of which can be used for self study or with a teacher in class.

Phrase bank

The Email English phrase bank provides over 500 key expressions for structuring emails effectively. These are organised by topic and purpose, reflecting the syllabus of the book. The phrase bank is invaluable both as a study resource and as a handy reference when writing real emails.
